good morning senator, the tennis court here will be under a few feet of snow by thanksgiving. you are probably on your way to Reno for the air races and i am, hopefully, on my way over to help lower the house. hannah has really slowed us up. we should have had the house down and siding on by now. i'm getting the redmonds over to backfill so we can pour the slab for the garage. bill has arranged for an electrician and a plumber to come in as soon as the house is closed up. the pace quickens. i hope you and catherine are ok with the steam bath being on the first floor, that turned out to be the only place that made sense. the electrician is moving the panel to the first floor so we can make a closet where it is now and we will be able to expand the existing bathroom enough to put a jacuzzi in. please ask catherine if she is ok with white fixtures in the bathrooms. did you get the pictures? have a great trip, bob
